Error Spotting Workbook

Basic Rules for Error Spotting

Rule 1

In Present Indefinite Sentences, the number and person of the subject play very important role.

If the subject is singular number third person, affix 's' or 'es' to the verb. If the verb ends in any of the following ss, o, x, z, sh, ch, add, 'es' instead of 's' with the verb.

Like : Pass, Miss, Do, Mix, Fix, Whiz, Buzz, Catch, Fetch, Clash, Rush etc.

Rule 2

When the main verb is in future, use Present Simple in clauses with; if till, as soon as, when, unless, before, until, even, if, in case and as.

Examples

(a) We shall wait till she arrives.

(b) I shall not go there, even if it rains.

Rule 3

Present Simple must be used instead of the Present Continuous with verbs of perception (feel, hear, smell etc.), Verbs of cognition (believe, know, think etc.), verbs of emotion (hope, love, hate etc.) which cannot be used normally in continuous form.

Incorrect We are seeing with our eyes.

Correct We see with our eyes.

Incorrect Are you hearing a strange noise?

Correct Do you hear a strange noise?

Incorrect We are smelling with our nose.

Correct We smell with our nose.

Incorrect I am feeling you are wrong.

Correct I feel you are wrong.

Incorrect The water is feeling cold.

Correct The water feels cold.

But these verbs can be used in progressive form in the following cases

1. The Session Judge is hearing our case.
2. We are thinking of going to USA next year.
3. He is minding (looking after) the children, while his wife is away.
4. I am seeing my lawyer today.
5. I am having some difficulties with this puzzle.

Rule 4

One must not use adverbs of past time like; yesterday, last year, last month, ago, short while ago etc. with Present Perfect Tense.

Example

He has completed his book yesterday. (Incorrect)

He completed his book yesterday. (Correct)

Rule 5

Use of Since/For Students commit mistakes in using 'Since' or 'For'. Please note, 'For' is used for 'Period of Time' and 'Since' is used for 'Point of Time'. With morning, evening etc., use since and with 'some time', 'hours', 'months', etc. use 'for'.

Error Spotting Workbook

Rule 6

If two or more actions took place in a sequence, we use Simple Past to denote the actions. (Otherwise Past Perfect is used to denote the earlier action) This is usually used with conjunction 'before'.

Examples

- (a) He switched on the light before he opened the door.
- (b) The train started just before I reached the station.

Rule 7

The use of Simple Past with, 'Wish' and 'If only' shows 'unreal past' and present state of things.

Examples

- (a) I wish I were a millionaire! (I am not a millionaire)
- (b) If only I knew her! (I don't know her)

Rule 8

In the following structure, the use of Simple Past denotes 'unreal past' and present time situation .

Examples

- (a) It is timewe went home. (It is time for us to go home)
- (b) It is time you finished. (It is time for you to finish)

Rule 9

Use of Past Continuous with 'When' and 'While' , 'When' is usually used when one action was completed and another while action was going on.

Examples

When he arrived, his wife was washing her clothes.
'While' is used when two actions were going on at a time.

Example

While she was cooking, I was washing the clothes.

Rule 10

Past Perfect is used when we look back on earlier action from a certain point in the past.

Example

She had completed her work, before I reached there.

Rule 11

The Past Perfect is also used for an action which began before the time of speaking in the past and which stopped some time before the time of speaking.

Examples

He had served in a bank for twenty years, then he retired and established his business. His children were now well settled.

Here we cannot use either since or the Past Perfect Continuous.

Rule 12

Past Perfect Continuous is used when the action began before the time of speaking in the past, and continued up to that time.

Examples

It was now eight and she was tired because she had been cleaning the house since dawn.

Error Spotting Workbook

Rule 13

When two actions are to be taken place on some future time, we use Future Perfect for the action completed first and Present Simple for the action to be completed afterwards.

Examples

- (a) The student will have left the class before the teacher comes.
- (b) The Principal will have started before I reach there.

Rule 14

Future Perfect is also used for such incidents/actions, about which we presume that another person already had the knowledge of that incident or the action is already completed by that time.

Examples

- (a) You will have heard about Mother Teresa.
- (b) He will have read the newspaper so far.

Sequence of Tense

The Sequence of Tenses are the principles which govern the tense of the verb in a subordinate clause vis-a-vis the tense of the verb in a principal clause. The rules which determine the tense of the subordinate clause if the tense of the principal clause is in present or past or future, are studied under the Sequence of Tense.

Rule 1

If the principal clause is in the Past Tense, the subordinate clause should also be in the past.

Examples

- (a) My father assured me that he would buy a bike for me.
- (b) He failed because he didn't work hard.

Exceptions

(i) A Past Tense in the principal clause may be followed by a Present Tense in the subordinate clause when the subordinate clause expresses a universal truth, mathematical calculation, historical fact, moral guidelines, habitual fact or something that has not yet changed. In such cases the tense of the subordinate clause is not governed by the tense of principal clause (The subordinate clause is usually in Present Tense in such cases).

Examples

- (a) He said that the Earth revolves round the Sun.
- (b) We learnt at school that the truth always triumphs.

(ii) If the subordinate clause is introduced by a conjunction of comparison such as ; 'than', 'as well as' etc. in such case, the Past Tense in the principal clause may be followed by any tense in the subordinate clause as per the sense of the statement. Furthermore, any tense in principal clause can be followed by any tense in the subordinate clause.

Examples

- (a) He loved me more than he loved you.
- (b) He loved me more than he loves you.
- (c) He loved me more than he will love you.
- (d) He will love you more than he loved me.
- (e) He has loved you more than he loved me.
- (f) He will love you more than he loves me.

- (g) She helps you as well as she helped me.
(h) She will help you as well as she has helped me.
(iii) If the subordinate clause is an adjective clause, in that case, it may be in any tense even the principal clause is in Past Tense.

Examples

- (a) I visited the place where accident took place.
(b) I visited the village where he lives.
(c) I visited the hotel where she will stay.

Rule 2

A Present or Future Tense in the principal clause may be followed by any tense.

Examples

- (a) He says that she passed the examination.
(b) He says that she will come tomorrow.
(c) Ram says that he likes that girl.
(d) Ram will say that Sita is a beautiful girl.
(e) Ram will say that he didn't like that girl.
(f) He will say that he will pass the examination positively.

Exception :If the subordinate clause is introduced by if, till, as soon as, when, unless, before, until, even if, as. etc. and the principal clause is in Simple Future, in that case the verb in subordinate clause must be in Present Simple.

Examples

- (a) We shall not go to market if it rains.
(b) He will wait till she comes.

Rules of Noun

Rule 1

Some nouns always remain in plural form. They take plural verb. These nouns have no singular form. These are -

Assets, alms, amends, annals, archives, ashes, arrears, athletics, auspices, species, scissors, trousers, pants, clippers, bellows, gallows, fangs, measles, eyeglasses, goggles, belongings, breeches, Bowels, braces, binoculars, dregs, earnings, entrails, embers, fetters, fireworks, longings, lees, odds, outskirts, particulars, proceeds, proceedings, riches, remains, shambles, shears, spectacles, surroundings, tidings, tactics, tongs, vegetables, valuables, wages etc.

Means' — In the sense of income'. Means always takes a plural verb. In the sense way to achieve some end, Means takes a singular verb. When 'a' or 'every' is used before Means', it is singular.

Examples

- (a) My means were reduced substantially.
(b) Every means is good if the end is good.

Rule 2

Some nouns look plural in form but have singular meaning. Such nouns take singular verb. These are: news, innings, politics, summons, physics, economics, ethics, mechanics, mathematics, measles, mumps, rickets, billiards, draughts, etc.

Error Spotting Workbook

Rule 3

Some nouns look singular but have plural meaning. Such nouns take plural verbs. These are: cattle, clergy, cavalry, infantry, poultry, peasantry, children, gentry, police etc.

Rule 4

Some nouns are always used in singular. These are uncountable nouns. We should not use article A/An with such nouns. These are -

Scenery, poetry, furniture, advice, information, hair, language, business, mischief, bread, stationery, crockery, luggage, baggage, postage, knowledge, wastage, money, jewellery, breakage etc,

We can not pluralise such nouns by adding 'S' or 'es'.

Example It is incorrect to write sceneries, informations, furnitures, hairs.

If hair is used as countable it can be pluralised : e.g., one hair, two hairs.

Example I need three hairs of a black horse.

Rule 5

Some nouns have the same form in singular as well as in plural. e.g., deer, fish, crew, family, team, jury, carp, pike, trout, aircraft, counsel, swine, vermin, etc.

Rule 6

Some nouns have plural meaning. If a definite numeral adjective is used before them they are not pluralised. e.g., pair, score. Gross, stone, hundred, dozen, thousand, million, billion, etc.

Otherwise these nouns can well be pluralised:

Dozens of women, Hundreds of people, Millions of dollars, Scores of shops. Many pairs of shoes, thousands millions etc.

Rule 7

If the same noun is repeated after preposition, the noun will be singular.

Examples

- (a) Town after town was devastated.
- (b) Row upon row of pink marble looks beautiful.

Rule 8

If a numeral adjective and a fraction are used with a noun, the noun is used with the numeral and the noun will be in singular.

Examples

- (a) He gave me one rupee and a half.
- (b) She gave me two rupees and a quarter.

Avoid the following structure

Examples

- (a) He gave me one and a half rupees. (Incorrect).
- (b) She gave me two and a quarter rupees. (Incorrect)

If the numeral adjective and the fraction refer to the multiplication, the noun be placed in the end (after the fraction) and it must be plural.

Examples

- (a) Your deposits has grown two and a half times

Error Spotting Workbook

within two years.

(b) My salary has increased three and a quarter times within three years.

Rule 9

Some nouns are known as common gender nouns. They can be used for either sex; Male or Female. These are called dual gender nouns. Such nouns are : teacher, student, child, clerk, candidate. advocate, worker, writer, author, leader, musician, politician, enemy, client, president, person, neighbour etc. When these are used in singular, use third person singular masculine (his) pronoun with them.

Examples

- (a) Every candidate should write his (not her) name.
(b) Every person should perform his (not her) duty.
*Each, either, everyone, everybody, no one, nobody, neither, anybody are also common gender pronouns.

Rule 10

Some nouns are used for specifically for feminine gender only. i.e., blonde, maid, mid wife, coquette, virgin etc.

Now a days nouns 'bachelor' and 'virgin' are being used for masculine and feminine gender as well .

Use of Apostrophe with 's'

(A) You can form the possessive case of a singular noun that does not end in 's' by adding an apostrophe and `s' We should use apostrophe in following situations only

- (1) Living things -> Mohan's book
- (2) Thing personified; as —> week's holiday
- (3) Space time or weight ; as —> a day's leave
- (4) Certain dignified objects; as —

- The court's orders
- At duty's call

- (5) Familiar phrases; as —

- At his wit's end
- At a stone's throw

It there are hissing sounds (sounds of sh or s) ending a word, use apostrophe without 's' with such words. e.g., For Jesus' sake, For conscience' sake, The roses' fragrance etc. (It can be noted that if we use apostrophe with s with such words it couldn't be pronounced well)

(B) You can form the possessive case of a plural noun that does not end in 's' by adding an apostrophe and a 's,' as in the following example.

Example The men's cricket team will play as soon as the women's team is finished.

(C) You can form the possessive case of a plural noun that does end in 's' by adding an apostrophe.

Example The concert was interrupted by the 'dogs' barking, the 'ducks'quacking, and the 'babies' squalling.

(D) Do not use apostrophe with possessive pronouns i.e., his, hers, yours, mine, ours, its, theirs etc.

Yours faithfully, yours truly, ours garden , his pen, hers purse, theirs room.

(E) Use apostrophe with the last word in following titles.

Error Spotting Workbook

Examples

- (a) Governor-general's instructions.
- (b) Commander-in-chiefs orders.
- (c) My son-in-law's sister.
- (d) Ram and Sons's shop.
- (F) Do not use 'Double apostrophe'. Avoid double apostrophe in a sentence.

Example

- (a) My wife's secretary's mother has expired.
(Incorrect)
The mother of my wife's secretary has expired.
(Correct)
- (G) Apostrophe with 's' is used with; Anybody/ Nobody / Everybody / Somebody / Anyone / Someone / No one / Everyone.

Example Everyone's concern is no one's concern.

If else is used after these words, use apostrophe with else as per following:

Example I can rely on your words, not somebody else's

Rules of Pronoun

A pronoun should clearly refer the noun it stands for. When it is not obvious to which antecedent a pronoun refers, the sentence should be corrected. This can be done either by repeating the noun, or by rewriting the sentence to make the meaning clear.

Examples

- (1) My friend was there with her aunt. She was wearing a red saree. (Incorrect)
- (2) My friend was there with her aunt. My friend was wearing a red saree. (Correct)

or

My friend, wearing a red saree, was there with her aunt. (Correct)

Rule 2.

A noun or pronoun which forms part of a prepositional phrase is said to be the object of the preposition. Personal pronouns in the objective case are used as objects of prepositions.

Examples

- (1) Please give the copy to him.
- (2) They went with her.

The underlined pronouns are the objects of the prepositions to, with.

Rule 3.

The possessive adjectives must agree with their antecedents.

Examples

- (1) The boy obeys his father.
- (2) The girl likes her mother.
- (3) The bird sat on its nest.

Rule 4.

Possessive adjectives used with gerunds When a gerund is preceded by a personal pronoun, the pronoun must be in the form of a possessive adjective.

Examples

- (1) The girl said that her writing had improved.

Error Spotting Workbook

(2) The boy entertained the guests with his singing.
In the above examples, the gerunds are underlined, and the possessive adjectives are printed in bold type.

Rule 5.

The possessive form of a personal pronoun which is called as a possessive pronoun, can be used in the place of a noun.

Examples

- (1) He did not bring his briefcase, but I brought mine.
(2) Because I forgot my pen, she lent me hers.
In the above sentences, the possessive pronouns are underlined.

Rule 6.

Pronoun follows Let-When a pronoun follows 'let', we use the objective form of the pronoun. We should not use subjective form after 'let'.

Let you and I decide the matter once for all. (Incorrect)

Let you and me decide the matter once for all.

(Correct)

Rule 7.

Different person pronouns with the same verb : If pronouns of different persons are used with the same verb in a sentence, they should be placed in following sequence

(i) If all the pronouns are in singular form then the good manners demand that second person pronoun should come first and then the third person .The first person should take the last position, i.e., 2 + 3 +1.

Examples

(a) You, he and I are partners.

(b) He and I are good friends.

(ii) If pronouns are in plural forms then the sequence should be 1+2+3, it means the first person plural pronoun is followed by second and third person plural pronouns.

Examples

(a) We and you cannot live together.

(b) We, you and they can purchase that complex.

(iii) Sometimes the sentences have some apologetic sense or negative sense or sense of some errors committed etc. In such sentences the good manners demand; to accept the guilt first by the speaker that means by the first person. In such case the sequence should be 1+2+3.

Examples

(a) I and you are responsible for the loss.

(b) You and he spoiled the party.

Rule 8.

If a pronoun refers to more than one noun or pronoun of different persons, it must be of the first person plural. In case, nouns or pronouns are first and second person and if nouns or pronouns referred by the pronoun are second and third person, it must be second person plural. In case of nouns or pronouns of first and third person, the pronoun must be first person plural.

II + I.....I Person plural

Error Spotting Workbook

II + III.....II Person plural

III + I.....I Person plural

Examples

(a) You and I have done our job.

(b) You and he have completed your job.

Rule 9.

If a collective noun is used as a unit denoting a unitary action as a whole, the pronoun used is singular and in neutral gender.

Examples

(a) The crew revolted and murdered its captain.

(b) After three days, the jury gave its verdict.

If the collective noun denotes separation or division, the pronoun used is plural.

Example

The jury were divided in their opinions.

Rule 10.

When two or more nouns are joined by 'and' the pronoun used would be plural.

Example Ram and Mohan went to their school.

If both the nouns joined by 'and' denotes the same person, the pronoun used would be singular.

Example The collector and magistrate is negligent in his duty.

Rule 11.

When two singular nouns are joined by and preceded by each or every, the pronoun used would be singular.

Example Every teacher and every boy was in his room.

Rule 12.

Singular pronoun and singular verb is used with; Each, Either and Neither.

Examples

(a) Each of the students is ready to do his duty.

(b) Neither of them gets his turn.

Rule 13.

Singular pronoun is used when two or more singular nouns are joined by `or', `Either.....or', `Neither.....nor'.

Example Either Ramesh or Ganesh lost his purse.

But if one noun is plural, then the pronoun should be plural and plural noun should be placed near the verb.

Example Either the principal or the teachers failed in their duty

Reflexive Pronouns

Rule 1.

When pronouns are combined, the reflexive pronoun will take either the first person or, when there is no first person, the second. person.

Examples

(a) Ram, and I have deceived ourselves about purchasing a house.

Error Spotting Workbook

(b) You and Ram have ruined yourselves.

Rule 2.

Transitive verbs take object with them. Such commonly used verbs are : avail, absent, enjoy, resign, apply, revenge, exert etc.

Examples

(a) I absented myself from the office.

(b) I revenged myself upon her.

Rule 3.

Verbs, when used intransitively, don't need an object. Such commonly used verbs are: keep, break, set, bath, make, stop, steal, qualify, move, open, draw, rest, roll, burst , Hide , feed, gather etc. These verbs are commonly used intransitively.

Example

He kept away from the function. (Correct)

He kept himself away from the function. (Incorrect)

Rule 4.

The indefinite pronoun one has its own reflexive form. One must have faith in oneself.

Emphatic Pronouns

The Emphatic pronouns (such as myself , yourself, herself, ourselves, themselves) consist of a personal pronoun + self or selves. The Emphatic pronoun is used to emphasize a noun.

It is possible (but rather unusual) for an emphatic pronoun to precede the noun it refers to. (Myself, I don't believe a word she says.) Usually Emphatic pronoun is placed after the noun it refers.

Examples

(a) I myself solved this question.

(b) She herself found the solution.

Reciprocal Pronouns

'Each. other' and 'one another' are only two Reciprocal Pronouns. These are always used objectively.

As per traditional theory each other is used for two and one another for more than two.

Example For you and I are foreigners to one another. -
Aldous Huxley

Reciprocal pronouns can also take possessive forms.

Examples

(a) They both borrowed each other's ideas.

(b) The students in this lab often use one another's equipment.

Relative Pronouns

Who

Who is used as the subject of a verb, whom is used as the object of a verb or the object of a preposition, and whose is used as an adjective denoting possession.

The relative pronouns who, whom and whose generally refer only to persons, and are used either in defining or non-defining relative clauses. Who refers to the subject of the sentence. whom refers to the object of a verb or a preposition. while whose refers to the possession and it is used as adjective.

Error Spotting Workbook

In the following examples, who introduces the defining relative clause who secures the highest marks and the non-defining relative clause who is learning Russian.

Examples

- (a) The child who secures the highest marks will receive a trophy.
- (b) My brother, who is learning Russian, wants to travel to Kazakhstan.

In these examples, who has the antecedent child and brother, and acts as the subject of the verbs secures and is learning.

Whom

In the following examples, whom introduces the defining relative clause whom we visited and the non-defining relative clause whom we will meet tomorrow.

Examples

- (a) The girl whom we visited is her sister.
- (b) Mr Francis, whom we will meet tomorrow, will be our guide.

In these examples, whom has the antecedents sister and Mr Francis, and acts as the object of the verbs visited and will meet.

In the following examples, to whom introduces the defining relative clause to whom you gave your umbrella and the non-defining relative clause to whom we send a birthday card every year.

Examples

- (a) The girl to whom you gave your umbrella lives near my house.
- (b) His aunt, to whom we send a birthday card every year, is ninety-eight years old now.

In these examples, whom has the antecedents girl and aunt, and is the object of the preposition to.

Whose

In the following examples, whose introduces the defining relative clause whose house was sold and the non-defining relative clause whose family lives in America.

Examples

- (a) The man whose house was sold will leave this town.
- (b) My brother, whose family lives in America, will visit us for a few days.

In these examples, whose has the antecedents man and brother, and modifies the nouns house and family. In the case of whose, it should be noted that it is the antecedent which must be a person; the noun being modified may be a person or a thing.

That

As a relative pronoun, that can refer to either persons or things. The relative pronoun that is generally used only in defining relative clauses.

Error Spotting Workbook

Examples

(a) The girls that were here yesterday will return in a week.

(b) The bag that was on the steps belongs to our tenant.

In these examples, that has the antecedents girls and bag, and introduces the defining relative clauses that were here yesterday and that was on the steps.

Here, that acts as the subject of the verbs were and was

1. That can be used for living and non-living nouns, for singular as well as plurals.

Examples

(a) I have lost the book that you gave me.

(b) He that is content is happy.

2. No preposition is used before that. If any preposition is required to be used, it is used in ending position.

Examples

(a) We know the hotel that she lives in.

(b) This is the lady that I told you about.

3. In a sentence after the following words that is generally used. All, any, anybody, Anything, much, Nothing, little, Somebody, no one, none, the same + noun + that, the only + noun + that etc.

Examples

(a) All that glitters is not gold.

(b) There was none that didn't support the cause.

4. After interrogative pronoun 'who' and 'what' that is used.

Examples

(a) What is it that you can't solve?

(b) Who was there that you were talking with?

Which

It is important to note that 'when' used as a relative pronoun. 'which' refers only to things, 'when' used as an adjective or interrogative pronoun, 'which' can refer to either persons or things.

Example The book which I purchased last week is very useful.

Preferring 'that' to 'who' or 'which'

1. That is preferably used after Superlative degree instead of who or which.

Example He is the most eloquent speaker that I have ever heard.

2. After two antecedents, one referring a person and the other referring an animal or a thing, use that, instead of who or which.

Example The boy and his dog that entered the temple were caught by the people.

3. After 'Same' OR 'Such' use 'as' or 'that' not 'who' or 'which'.

Error Spotting Workbook

Example This is the same fellow that came yesterday also .

What

Relative pronoun what is used without antecedents. When used as a relative pronoun, what has the meaning — the thing or things that.

Example What you say is not true.

1. The antecedent of a relative pronoun should not be in possessive case.

Example

These are chairman's instructions that must be followed. (incorrect)

It is an incorrect structure. These sentences should have been written as following

These are the instructions of the chairman that must be followed. (Correct)

2. The Relative pronoun should be of the same number and person as its antecedent. It means the verb should agree with the number and person of the antecedent.

Examples

- (a) The girl who was late was fined.
- (h) The girls who were late were fined.

Distributive Pronouns

Each , Either and Neither are classified as Distributive pronouns.They denote person or thing one at a time.These pronouns are always treated as singular and take singular verbs.

Examples

- (a) Each of the students gets a prize.
- (b) Either of the two will win the race.
- (c) Every one of the students was happy.
- (d) Each of the two students received a medal.

Each can be used for two or more persons or things and is normally used for small number. Every is not normally used for very small numbers . Each can be used for more than two when the number is usually definite. Both take a singular verb.

Who/Whom

Who/Whom in Relative clauses A frequent source of trouble is sentences of this type

Examples

- (a) The person who (or whom ?) we thought was guilty proved to be innocent.
- (b) The man who (or whom?) we feared we had injured proved to be unharmed.

The temptation is always to use whom , presumably because it is felt that the word is the object of thought and feared (or whatever verb takes their place in other sentences) ; but it is not. In the first sentence, it is the subject of 'was guilty', hence who is correct. and in the second, the object of 'had injured'. hence whom is required. If there is any doubt, a useful test is to substitute the personal pronoun he or him; if he would be used, the correct. relative is who ; if him, it is whom.

Examples

- (a) We thought he was guilty . (therefore who)
- (b) We feared we had injured him. (therefore whom)
- (c) We thought him to be guilty . (therefore whom)

A similar difficult may rise arise with questions

Example Who (not whom) do you think we saw ?

because it is the object of saw .

Whom is never indirect object . Whom is not used as an indirect object . we do not say the boy whom I gave the book . or ask whom did you give the book ? It must be to whom (or the preposition may be placed at the end) .

The verb after who Who is the same number and person as its antecedent . and takes its verbs accordingly

Example It is I who am to blame .

5. (A) Write chidden face in place of chide face in section

(A) The given sentence needs an adjective and not a verb. Chide is a verb which means to criticize; to blame; to scold. Chidden is past participle of chide functioning as adjective. The given sentence refers to the position or quality of the face of the child after he had been chided. So, the correct sentence will be:

"The chidden face of the child was enough to establish that his father had taken him to task."

Please note that chide which means to scold or criticize takes the following two courses when it moves from present tense to past tense and past participle:

	Present	Past	Past participle
--	---------	------	-----------------

(a) Chide Chid Chid or Chidden

(b) Chide Chided Chided

6. (A) Write thriven in place of thrive in section (A). The given sentence needs an adjective and not a verb. Thrive is a verb which means to prosper or flourish. The sentence refers to the persons who have already prospered. As such, we need an adjective which should tell the quality (of being prosperous) of those people. Thriven is past participle of verb thrive functioning as adjective. So, the correct sentence will be:

"Only well thriven people have their say in Indian politics."

7. (C) Write that in place of as in section (C). Such as and such that are used in different senses. Such as is used to convey the sense of like in the case of human beings. It precisely means, of a specified kind or of a specified degree.

Such that is used to convey the same sense in the case of actions, etc. So, the correct sentence will be:

"The teacher spoke in such a low voice that the students could not hear him."

Mark the following examples:

(a) Such poets as Mahadevi Verma and Sumitra Nandan Pant wrote wonderful poetry.

(b) Such authors as Chander Bhatia never write good books.

(c) He is not such a fool as he looks.

(d) The knot was fastened in such a way that it was impossible to undo it.

It will be a blunder to use such as and as such in the same sense. As such gives the sense of so.

The given sentence refers to the degree of the voice of the teacher. Therefore, the correct sentence will be:

"The teacher spoke in such a low voice that the students could not hear him."

8. (C) Write if in place of as in section (C). The sentence prescribes a condition for selection. As such, as which

16. (B) Write in in place of of in section (B).

The preposition in is used with negligent and not with neglectful. With neglectful, we always use of. Neglectful of means. being in the habit of neglecting things or people. So, the correct sentence will be: "Sushma is negligent in her duty but not neglectful of her appearance."

Note: Negligent in means, not giving proper attention or care to something."

Mark the following example:

(a) We found her negligent in her work.

(b) She is negligent in the discharge of her duties.

However, some grammarians believe that even of can be used with negligent.

For examples:

"Mohan was negligent of his duties."

But, it does not mean that in can be used with neglectful.

17. (D) Write me in place of I in section (D). The sentence needed a possessive pronoun. So, the correct sentence will be:

"Whom do you plan to invite to your party besides Mr. Rao and me?"
